By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 1.—The total number of men killed in action, died of wounds, missing and prisoners of the thirty combat divisions of the American army was 56,592. General March announced today at his weekly conference.

Washington, Feb. 1.—The United States has passed the million mark in discharges from the service, General March, chief of staff, announced at his weekly conference today. The exact number up to today was 1,013,648, of which 61,237 are officers. The number assigned for demobilization, General March added, is now 1,306,000, of which 1,243,000 are men who saw service in this country only, the remaining 153,000 being from overseas. Of all the officers already discharged from the army, 2,444 were engaged in work in Washington, the generalities in the 35th Division, of which there have been sensational reports. General March said that this division lost only 1,723 men. One of the reports circulated was that it lost 7,000 in one engagement. The number actually lost was divided as follows: Killed in action, 596; died of wounds, 217; missing, 808, and prisoners, 112. Fifteen divisions suffered heavier casualties than this, the general said. Referring to reports of unusually heavy casualties in the 92nd and 93rd Divisions also, General March said that there were twenty-seven divisions that suffered casualties heavier than the 92nd, and twenty-four that fared worse than the 93rd. The general announced that the war department had prepared a complete list of casualties by divisions and that it would be made public in the course of the day.

PERSHING DEFENDS SOLDIER IN PARIS

Declares Crime Wave Not Caused by Yankees and Says Pay System is Good.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Reports that American soldiers are responsible for crime wave in Paris are "flatly denied" by General Pershing in a cable to Secretary of War Baker, said public today. "Full refutation" of the charges cannot be put too strongly before the American people, the American commander stated. "The American military police organization," said General Pershing, "is excellent and the disturbances have been kept at a minimum. None of these is traceable in any respect to city pay system. The pay system enables soldiers to get pay from the cashier when money is due him." The casualties sustained by New York divisions were: Twenty-seventh, 194; Seventy-seventh, 2,492; (Metropolitan New York National Army); Twenty-eighth, 1,825 (remainder of New York and northern Pennsylvania).

PIAVE SURVIVORS LAND IN ENGLAND

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Deal, England, Feb. 1.—Thirty survivors from the wrecked American steamship, PIAVE, were landed here today and 29 others at Dover.

It is hoped that other survivors on board other boats.

The PIAVE is now a total loss, having broken up under the terrific pounding of heavy seas. She split in two while efforts were being made to refloat her.

A storm had set in and the decks were covered with snow when, with a noise like thunder, the vessel was rent in two.

The PIAVE's lifeboats were caught in the wreckage, hurled the occupants into the water.

Heroic rescue work was done by the men on the tugboats.

New York, Feb. 1.—Sixty manufacturers of passenger automobiles put the finishing touches to their exhibits at Madison Square Garden and the Sixty-ninth Regiment armory in preparation for the opening of the nineteenth annual auto show tonight. Twice this number of accessory dealers will exhibit their wares during the coming fortnight.

Every model from the small priced roadster to the most expensive palace on wheels will be shown this year, including both gasoline and electric types of cars. The popularity of the closed car for year around service is evidenced in the fact that most of the manufacturers will show this type of car.

WRITTEN REPORT OF SCHOOLS MONTHLY

To Be Made in Future By Supt. Michael—Night School Attendance Very Good—Other Matters Before Education Board.

Superintendent of schools M. J. Michael submitted a most satisfactory report of the meeting made during the opening month of the night school at the regular meeting of the Board of Education held in the High School Friday evening. There has been no written report of the superintendent published for some time although the board is familiar with every detail connected with each individual school. Trustee Atkins stated that he had heard quite a little public comment on the failure of Superintendent Michael to make a monthly report for the public. This has not been done for some time, due to the fact that the members of the board have been acquainted intimately with the conditions and have found that the superintendent is a very busy man. Caught unprepared for a written report, Mr. Michael outlined briefly the work during the month of January. From time to time there has been posted on the walls of the board meeting room a graphic report of each individual school, showing the standing of each in their school work. For the public Mr. Michael stated that during the past month he had kept in close touch with all of the city schools and had visited every school. He commended highly the accomplishments of the teachers in their progress in covering the entire course of study for the past term despite the closing of the schools for five weeks during the epidemic last fall. The formal examination as used in the past was partly eliminated, this last term in determining the promotion of the students and more stress was laid on the daily class work with written tests at frequent intervals. Mr. Michael has a list of the promoted scholars but did not have the necessary time to review it. It will be made public later. The superintendent reported that the teachers have shown exceptional professional spirit in the task of covering the five weeks of lost time and although reviews could not be held as often as necessary that the scholars had worked hard and that the results show that they have adapted themselves to the extra work conscientiously. President Flemming said that he had personally found our superintendent on the job and that he knew that he was thoroughly familiar with details and general progress of each individual school regardless of the extra work imposed upon Mr. Michael by the newly organized night school. Mr. Flemming also stated that from the citizens of the city he had heard favorable comment on the efficient and attentive work of Superintendent Michael and the board agreed that they were familiar with Mr. Michael's intimate work with conditions of the schools of the city. The superintendent's written report on the night school for the month of January is as follows:

Mr. Michael stated that in the future he would make a written monthly report for the public. To the Honorable the Board of Education.

I submit the following report on the night school which was opened in the high school building on the 9th of this month.

To date there have been registered in the night school 300 students. Of this number, 78 have been discharged, some of whom have found it impossible to continue on account of work; others on account of sickness; a few others have moved from the city; some have failed to put in an appearance after the first night or two without assigning any reason for their absence. We now have 222 names on the register. On Tuesday evening of this number 187 were present; last evening 185 were present.

The percentage of absence is remarkably low when it is considered that practically every student in the night school is regularly employed during the day. Some of these people are employed in the early part of the evening and cannot always reach the school in time for roll call. We have so arranged the programs of these people as to enable them to enter at 8 o'clock and receive instruction until 10:30.

The cost for maintenance of the night school during the month of January, exclusive of light and heat, and tear on text books, is $149, which includes wages of eight teachers and one janitor. On account of the mild weather prevailing during this month the expense for additional heat has been nothing.

At my request Mr. Service in collaboration with Miss Davis and Miss Holmes, has submitted to me the following report on our industrial arts courses.

Robert J. Service, director of the Department of Industrial Arts in the city schools, reported the activities along with relief work of the various art courses. His report in full follows:

To the Superintendent of Schools: The epidemic of the past school term has held up the work of the industrial department as it has of every other branch of the school work but we are looking forward to an uninterrupted term until June.

Last year some work was done in the 7th and 8th grades by giving the girls sewing and the boys mechanical drawing for one period per week. This work was highly successful, judging from the better work accomplished by these students when they entered the industrial department.

INTER-ALLIED COUNCIL CONSIDERS BALKAN PROBLEM

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Paris, Feb. 1.—Instead of another plenary session of the peace conference being held today the supreme inter-allied council met again at the foreign office to consider Balkan problems.

The controversy between Serbia and Rumania has been deeply occupying the attention of the representatives of the "big five" who realize fully the dangers attending the Balkan territorial disputes.

This controversy is understood to hinge upon counter claims made to territory that formerly belonged to Austria-Hungary.

President Wilson, and the premiers and foreign secretaries of the Allied and Associated powers are treating the Balkan problem cautiously, not alone because the national jealousies in the Balkans but because of the large number of human beings involved in the final settlement.

The population of Bania, which is subject to rival claims, is upward of 500,000 persons.

Next week will be a busy one for the committees dealing with the league of nations, international labor legislation, financial problems and war responsibility.

It is understood that the colonial question, upon which it has been agreed to accept President Wilson's principle of internationalization, was not discussed in detail and it is believed it will be discussed today.

BRIDGE CONTRACTS TO BE LET SOON

Highway Commissioner Duffey Informs Chamber of Commerce Contracts Will Be Let by April 1—Material Prices to Go Down.

State Highway Commissioner Duffey has assured the Chamber of Commerce that contracts for the building of the Steubenville bridge will be let before April 1. As stated in The Freeman the local Chamber of Commerce had taken the matter up with both Mr. Duffey and Governor Smith.

It is said that the fixing of April 1 as the date on which the contracts would be awarded was due to the fact that prices of materials needed will drop by that time.

Kingston and Ulster county residents have been disappointed so many times in the past that it will be hard to convince many that the construction of the bridge will actually be taken up this spring.

It will be remembered that when Commissioner Duffey spoke in Kingston recently he stated that the bridge and the Storm King road were two matters in which he was deeply interested, and that construction work on both he intended to see underway before the expiration of his term as state commissioner.

MERRITT BARN BURNS.

Building and 25 Tons of Hay Were Partly Insured.

The large hay barn on the late Charles Merritt estate on Clinton avenue and located just below the hill opposite the residence of Miss Grace Merritt was totally destroyed by fire of an unknown origin about 2 o'clock Saturday morning. The flames were discovered by the policeman on the night patrol and an alarm was sent in from Box No. 84 at the corner of Fair and North Front streets, to which Wilkney, Central and Weiner hose companies responded. The barn contained about 25 tons of new hay, which was a total loss with the building.

The flames had gained considerable headway before they were discovered and the structure was deemed before the firemen arrived, but for two hours the men fought the blaze in an effort to keep the flames from the nearby buildings. Luckily the wind was in the west or there might have been considerable damage done to the surrounding property.

The building and hay was partially covered by insurance.

Sunday School Rally.

The pupils and friends of the Sunday school of St. John's Church held a most successful and enjoyable rally at the parish house on Friday evening, there being a very gratifyingly large number of children present. During the first hour of the evening games were played. The next hour was devoted to dancing. Miss Helen Westbrock very kindly playing for the young people to dance. The evening, which was a very happy one, closed with the singing of light refreshments.

AUTOMOBILE SHOW MARCH 13, 14 AND 15

Nothing Short of a Blizzard on These Dates Can Prevent a Huge Success When Kingston Dealers Get Together to Show Their Gas Wagons.

Kingston's automobile show will be held in the armory on March 13, 14 and 15, will be along the lines of the show given so successfully in March, 1918, and will be a success unless a blizzard comes just at that time to prevent anyone or anything from moving around. The nine automobile dealers in Kingston have so decided, and what they say goes.

At their meeting Friday afternoon in the Stuyvesant, William J. Turk, chairman of the joint committee of arrangements, presided and most of the dealers were present in person or by proxy. Those not represented in this way were there in spirit and telephoned. In substance, "Any old place the gang goes, I'll be there." So unanimity of sentiment and action are assured. It was decided to allot spaces substantially the same as at the last show and the arrangement of the diagram was left to John R. Millard to figure out when he has time. A guarantee fund similar to that of the other show was decided on and the dealers are to bring in their checks at the next meeting of the committee, Monday, February 10, the Stuyvesant.

Frank R. Powley having written that he was unable to act as treasurer, and recommending Arthur A. Davis, cashier of the Kingston National Bank for the position, Mr. Powley's resignation was accepted and Mr. Davis elected treasurer.

Mr. Molyneux was added to the publicity committee and a resolution was adopted to suspend all individual advertising during the show and for eight days preceding the show, the association uniting and advertising the show itself during that time.

The dealers in accessories are invited to attend the next meeting of the committee.

NAVAL SERVICE CHEVRONS.

Ensign Loughran Quotes the Rules
Governing Wearing of Them.

U. S. S. Submarine Chaser No. 54.
Squadron 11, Section Base 8.
New York, January 30, 1919.

To the Editor of The Freeman:

Dear Sir:—Referring to an article in your issue of January 22, 1919, in justice to the men of the U. S. Navy who might be suspected of sailing under false colors by wearing what you term "over-sea" chevrons, may I offer
some information based on direct authority.

You assert that "no particular time
is stated shorter than fifteen months, after which a man in the service of the navy may wear two gold chevrons for that length of time overseas." I now quote from General Order No. 422, Navy Department, Washington, dated September 25, 1918: "3. War service chevrons to be worn upon the lower half of the left sleeve by all persons in the naval service who have been overseas for a period of three months or more since May 25, 1918, as vessels that, during their service on board, have cruised on the high seas of the Atlantic Ocean, north of the equator."

"5. Continued service falling within the above qualifications for more than a year, shall entitle the wearer to one additional chevron for three months or more service in any one complete year."

It is not necessary, as you say, for a man to rate this chevron to have been "either in transport service going back and forth or stationed permanently overseas."

General order quoted above says:
"7. Persons entitled to wear the war service chevron or the wound chevron shall not do so until they have obtained permission therefor, in writing, from their immediate commanding officers, who shall in every instance fully satisfy himself of the right of the applicant to wear such chevron before granting such permission."

A letter issued by Yates Stirling,
Captain U. S. N., Chief of Staff, dated October 6, 1918, to commanders of district forces afloat, and Naval District, states: "Referring to Paragraph 7, squadron commanders may authorize men to wear one war service chevron provided they have served on a commissioned armed vessel, continently cruising on the high seas in

PUGSLEY DRAWS WELL

Evangelist at Wurts Street Church
Finds Attendance Increasing.

Last evening Rev. Pugsley, the evangelist at the Wurts Street Baptist Church, preached another powerful sermon on the "Temptations of Christ, or the Devil on the Run." He told how when Christ was tempted after 40 days and 40 nights and was abandoned, that Satan said: If thou be the Son of God command that these stones be turned into bread, and Jesus rebuked him, and said: Man cannot live by bread alone. The sermon in part was as follows, St. Matt. 4th chapter:

The temptations of Jesus were a testing time in the life of the Son of God. Though he were son yet learned obedience by the things which he suffered and being made perfect
He became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him.

We cannot explain the need of this testing but if the Son of God needed to be tested how much more we as sinful creatures need to be tried before we are able to do service for our God. Jesus was tested in solitude, in the sanctuary and in society. He conquered himself and was fitted to do the work of God. After his temptation he preached his wonderful sermon and convinced the world by His life that he was the Son of God. We accept His divinity from what he did for us proved by his miracles that he was all that he claimed to be. His life's work was the fulfilling of all that he claimed to be. He conquered self and was qualified to teach and to lead others. It is the man and woman who has conquered self who can lead others and are always will be the leaders in things pertaining to the things of God. May we master self before we attempt to tell others what to do and how to live. May our actions speak as loudly as our words.

The world will forget what we say,
but will always remember and recall our actions. The heasts that meet us in our solitude must be slain and our belief in the temple must be eradicated as well as the folly of society. When we have convinced the world that we are masters of our own body, soul and spirit they will set up and take notice of that we have to say.

There will be a meeting for men tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the main auditorium of the church. There will also be a meeting for ladies in the chapel. Other services as usual.

Dr. Pugsley's Pictures of Sin.

At 10 o'clock vesper service in the Elmendorf Street Church. Dr.
Cady will show a series of lantern slides illustrating the journey from Egypt to the Mountains of Sinai. He will follow the way taken by Moses over three thousand years ago. The grandeur of these mountains is beyond description. One must see to

HONORED BY ALL
Praise Accorded American Soldiers in Universal

To Their Bravery and Chivalry on the Field of Battle Has Been Added
Fine Generosity to an Un-

"Let another man praise thee and not thine own mouth; a stranger and not thine own lips," says an ancient proverb; which is easier to obey than it has been sometimes, for the air is resonant with adulation for this country and its people—praises for his benevolence, energy, idealism, army and navy.

We have extolled in the praise bestowed upon the boys in khaki for their chivalry toward women, their gentleness as they walked with their hands val to little, against the much greater and more tempting, and their courage in justice. But these virtues were all exhibited to friends and allies.

Now comes, however, a testimony to their behavior toward their enemies, which ought, we think, to give us even a deeper joy.

"Especially praise," says a dispatch from Amsterdam, "was given the American troops of occupation by a representative of the Berlin foreign ministry on his return from Treves.

"The judgment of all Germans, such as shopkeepers, hotel keepers and men on the street, is that the behavior of the Americans is blameless."

"Blameless!" "Sans peur et sans reproche!"

We pity the man or woman who can read that testimony without choking up a little bit. One ought not to forget that these young Americans are among a people whom they have learned to hate. If there has been one thing above all others upon which they universally agreed, it was loathing and horror for German frightfulness. In all their letters home they wrote of their irrepressible dread that the war might be stopped in some way before they had taken vengeance upon the Huns for their heinous conduct toward wounded men and helpless women and children.

And now they are moving across the country of their hated foes as conquer-street corner they see the men who have perpetrated these nameless hor-

These men are at their mercy. And yet, upon the testimony of these brutes themselves, "their behavior is blameless."

We read that they march through these German cities grim and silent; their faces white and their jaws set; looking neither to the right hand nor to the left; self-contained and self-controlled. These are the men, remember, who went "over the top" in many a bloody battle, singing "We won't come back until it's over—over there."

"Blameless!" "Sans peur et sans reproche!"

What a miracle is such young manhood! How strangely its contemplation moves the hearts. What pride we take in thinking that these blameless youths belong to us! They are our ones—yours and mine!

If the generation of lads now growing up in America is not fired with a spirit of emulation by the conduct of these soldiers of the American expeditionary forces, we shall feel like disowning them. There will be little excuse for cowardice, inefficiency, inattention and cowardice for the boys whose fathers and big brothers have exerted such admiration not only from friends but foes.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

New Finish for Concrete Floors.

A new polish for concrete floors where a hard surface and a dustless one is desired consists of 35 per cent of iron dust or iron flour. It is added to the dry cement in the proportion of 5 to 25 pounds to each 100 pounds, and one part of the mixture is used with two parts of sand. This preparation is applied as a top coat to a thickness of one-half to one inch. It forms a hard and durable floor, claimed to be waterproof and not slippery. This composition is also made use of where it is desired to make new concrete under
